

Alvar Aalto 69 Chair, 1935

£225

DESCRIPTION

69 Chair by Alvar Aalto

The iconic Aalto 60 stool provided the basis for a host of furniture designs employing the innovative L-Leg. Seating, tables and storage furniture all shared the component to provide structural and functional integrity.

The chair offered has a unique provenance having come from the University of Technology, Helsinki. The Aalto designed building began construction in 1949 and the tables released during a refit in 2012

DIMENSIONS

40w x 50d x 70cmh

MATERIALS

Chair 69 was one of several designs that provided improved comfort and utility to the stool, through an upholstered seat, raked back legs and laminated birch plywood back.
