DESCRIPTION

Model 2065 Pendant by Gino Sarfatti for Astep.

The elegant 2065 pendant lamp showcases the innovative approach of Gino Sarfatti. Design in 1950, the designer steered away from the glass, the lighting industry standard material and chose to use methacrylate, a new polymer plastic that was lighter and stronger.

The free-floating lamp features a diffuser made with two joined opalescent saucers suspended with a black aluminium canopy. The black/white version features a soft-touch black coated top saucer allowing the lower saucer the function as the only diffuser.
