The Tati collection by Asplund includes a variety of tables and home accessories with curved metal bases designed by Mats Broberg and Johan Ridderstråle.

The designer's goal was to create a simple yet versatile design that could withstand the test of time, which they achieved through the simple yet elegant silhouette of the table and the ability to customise the table to suit the buyer's preference.

Used on their own or grouped together, the Tati coffee table forms part of the wider adaptable Tati collection of side, console and sofa coffee tables.
