

Atalante, 2009

Designer: Jasper Morrison

Manufacturer: De Padova

£6,403

DESCRIPTION

Atalante designed by Jasper Morrison for De Padova.

The Atalante sofa is a modular sofa with contemporary and versatile qualities. The sofa is ideal for relaxing and deep comfort. Available in a range of compositions, the Atalante was designed by Jasper Morrison in 2009, in honour of the French Nouvelle Vague film. The Atalante is adaptable to different living spaces.

The Atalante sofa can be configured with a range of components, please see 'Product downloads' for all available modules and combinations in the series or enquire for further details.

DIMENSIONS

S1, 190w x 40d x 65cmh

S2, 215w x 40d x 65cmh

S3, 240w x 40d x 65cmh

S4, 258w x 40d x 65cmh

S5, 310w x 40d x 65cmh

S6, 335w x 40d x 65cmh

MATERIALS

Frame made from wood with elastic straps and feet made with thermoplastic material. Padding is produced from a combination of foamed polyurethane, memory foam and polyester wadding. Cushions are filled with a mixture of goose down.

Cover can be upholstered with removable fabric or non-removable in leather, please see upholstery pdf for details on fabric options.

HELP / ADVICE

Call: 0207 837 1900

Email: showroom@twentytwentyone.com