DESCRIPTION

BAC Rectangular Table by Jasper Morrison for Cappellini.

A versatile table which can be used both as a work or dining table, the Bac is a modern piece of furniture defined by its plank-like legs. With a functionalist approach to his work, Morrison has stripped back the Bac table to the bare essentials: four legs, a tabletop and the support required to offer structural integrity, offering a primal yet refined essence to its space.

The understated table comes in two sizes suitable for sitting 6 to 8 people and can be completed in a range of handsome finishes, including bleached, oak-stained, black-stained, wengé-stained or Shanghai blue.

A modern design suited to a range of interiors, the table is ideal when accompanied by the Bac chair, which can be found in the related product section below.
