Initially designed in 1950 by Børge Mogensen, the Huntsman chair was exhibited for the first time at the Copenhagen Cabinetmakers' Furniture Guild Exhibition as part of a 'hunting cabin theme'.

The robust and durable seat has been crafted from a union of luxurious saddle leather, a solid wooden frame, and buckles and brackets in steel or brass that hold the leather taught. The fusion of natural and high-quality materials with solid metal components provide the chair with a rugged elegance.
