DESCRIPTION

ISP wall light by Ilia Potemine for DCW éditions.

The ISP range marks a new generation of lighting from DCW éditions. Futuristic yet elegant, the ISP light is as much an object of beauty as it is a practical light for the home.

A translucent rod containing an LED light source glides from its brass enclosure, the intensity of the light determined by how much of the rod is revealed.

When the light is completely revealed, it diffuses a comfortable yet powerful light. When the light is slid further into the brass tube, the light takes on a warmer quality.

The ISP wall light can be positioned vertically or horizontally.
