DESCRIPTION

System Ultra Cupboard by Poul Cadovius for DK3.

In 1957, Poul Cadovius designed the System Ultra - an evolution of the renowned Royal Shelving system. This inventive storage solution optimised space by elevating furniture from the floor to the walls.

Designed initially with metal shelving, the unit has since expanded to include wooden shelves and a cupboard option. The cupboard has two sliding doors and an interior shelf, providing ample space for the discreet storage of your belongings.

The System Ultra comprises wall-mounted rails, shelves, cabinets and metal hangers. These components come in various colours and sizes, providing flexibility for customising your preferred arrangement and the potential for future expansion or reconfiguration.

Rails and shelves are sold separately. Please see the related product section below.

If you require any assistance designing your shelving system please either contact us or use the System Ultra configurator here.
