DESCRIPTION

Eames LTR marble occasional table by Charles & Ray Eames for Vitra.

Charles and Ray Eames designed the LTR (Low Table Rod Base) as a small, variable side table and even had several different versions of them in the Eames House. Even today there are many of these tables standing there, individually or in groups, decorated with objects from the Eames collection or simply acting as a side table next to armchairs and sofas.

Quickship: 2 week delivery for the white finish.
