DESCRIPTION

Arco Floor Lamp by Achille Castiglioni for Flos.

The Arco floor lamp has been in continuous production since 1962 and is now considered a design classic. Every part of the design has a function.

The idea for the Arco lamp stemmed from the challenge of illuminating a table without obstructing space. Existing lamps required walking around them, so Castiglioni designed Arco with a base positioned further away, creating a more efficient solution. Commercially available materials, such as curved steel angle iron, were used, and marble was chosen for the counterweight, offering the same weight in a more compact form and a superior finish. Every aspect of the design, including the bevelled corners and hole in the base, serves a practical function, ensuring safety and ease of handling.

The Arco floor lamp is also available in a multichip LED model at an additional cost.
