The Bellhop Wall Up light, designed by Barber & Osgerby in 2022, is the latest addition to Flos's celebrated Bellhop family. Sharing the same characteristics as the rest of the series, a bell-shaped shade and a selection of vibrant-coloured, glossy finishes, the wall light makes a lively addition to both sheltered outdoor and indoor spaces.

Contrary to its name, the wall light can be positioned either upwards or downwards depending on the direction you would like the light to fall. Fitted with a high-efficiency LED light source, the surface of the diffuser is fabricated with a unique texture to create a uniform light distribution.

The light is assembled so all parts can be easily separated, replaced and recycled.
