DESCRIPTION

Coupe Sofa by Børge Mogensen for Fredericia.

An elegant leather sofa designed in 1971. Mogensen was inspired by the distinctive lines of the British hall porter's chair – a classic wing-style chair specially designed to capture heat from open fireplaces, typical of the housing of the past.

Børge Mogensen designed the first of his iconic leather sofas in 1962. Since then, they have become a Danish institution and are used to furnish cabinet ministers' offices and Danish embassies all over the world.

In Danish, the model is popularly named the Coupé Sofa, because it encloses you just like the comfortable seats in first-class train coupés. Here, you can withdraw completely from the world and enjoy a good book in peace.
