DESCRIPTION

Wing chair by Børge Mogensen for Fredericia.

Børge Mogensen graduated from the School of Architecture with a clear mission. He wanted to create quality furniture that everyone could afford. 20 years later, he designed the sofas and chairs that now furnish cabinet ministers offices and Danish embassies around the world.

The first of the iconic sofas were released in 1962, followed by many different variations, evolving them into Danish institutions. The 2204 Wing chair is a high-backed wing chair with the 2202 as matching footstool. The set was designed in 1963 and is regarded as among the most comfortable furniture Mogensen created.

The chair envelops the body, the wings shut out the world, giving one the peace to read or relax. The chair and footstool are part of the 2200 series that also includes an easy chair and two- and three-seat sofas.
