DESCRIPTION

JG Folding Stool by Jørgen Gammelgaard for Fredericia.

Folding stools are part of a Danish design tradition that inspired the likes of Jørgen Gammelgaard. The JG Folding stool takes an analytical approach to material properties to adapt simple and practical designs for modern-day needs.

Launched in 1970 by Jørgen Gammelgaard, the JG Folding stool has since received iconic status. Appreciated for its unique visual expression, it is a masterpiece in engineering. Fredericia have re-launched the folding stool, utilising quality craftsmanship to pay homage to Gammelgaard's refined aesthetics.

The design's folding mechanism makes it ideal for bringing out as extra seating or as a modernist footstool. The sleek, stainless steel legs expand to create a frame comprised of diagonal lines supporting a simple seat in leather or canvas.

Jørgen Gammelgaard's multifunctional approach makes it a convenient form of seating, versatile for a vast array of spaces and settings.
