Design duo Kaschkasch created a range of table and floor lamps inspired by the curved tubing used around street signs. The lamps share an arched shape and feature a tilting circular disc as their light source that can be adjusted to create both indirect ambient and direct task lighting.

The lamp body is made from powder-coated die-cast aluminum and steel, while the light source is a polycarbonate opalescent lens that conceals a flat light panel.

DIMENSIONS

10w x 20d x 38cmh

MATERIALS

Die cast aluminium lamp body and upright steel tube both with matt powder coat finish, injection moulded nylon bearings.

4W integrated LED.
