DESCRIPTION

Uribo Stool by GamFratesi for Koyori.

GamFratesi's Uribo stool, designed in 2024, draws inspiration from Koyori's expertise in wood bending. The designers aimed to create a piece that emphasised the inherent artistry of this craftsmanship, showcasing beauty in the stool's simplicity.

The stool's modern design, characterised by straight edges, is enhanced by the manufacturer's well-established techniques, which ensure both quality and durability.

Uribo translates from Japanese to mean "baby wild pig," a fitting name for the stool, which carries a charm that echoes deeply with its design.
