

Daphne Cloe Table Lamp

Designer: Tommaso Cimini

Manufacturer: Lumina Italia

£484

DESCRIPTION

Daphne Cloe Table Lamp by Tommaso Cimini for Lumina Italia.

The Daphne series perfectly embodies the core essence of Lumina. Its design concept is elegantly simple yet efficient: featuring a pivoting diffuser, a flexible arm with two segments, and an electromechanical transformer situated on a cylindrical base flanked by metallic caps.

The Daphne Cloe variant distinguishes itself with a sleek base, catering to settings where the original Daphne's more "technical" appearance might be overly pronounced.

This flat base, once housing a transformer in the halogen model, now accommodates the electronics powering the LED and the articulated arm's jack connection. The arm offers both free rotation and complete folding capabilities.

The idea behind this design concept can be attributed to Tommaso Cimini's philosophy: "Lots of light, not much lamp", a guiding principle ingrained in all Lumina products.

A 2700K light emits a cosy, yellow-toned glow, while a 3000K light provides a crisp, white light. The 3000K lighting is ideal for lively spaces such as home offices, hallways, bathrooms, and kitchens.

The 2700K lights are better suited for areas where a warm and relaxing ambiance is desired, like the living room, dining room, and bedroom.
