The iconic Ambrosia ceiling light by Marset has been reimagined as a wall light, allowing for an elegant and versatile lighting solution that is suitable for a range of settings and interior styles.

Inspired by more conventional strip lighting, the Ambrosia series perfectly strikes the balance between contemporary and retro, and is available in black, and can be hung horizontally or vertically. Available with the top metal bar on the left and a light temperature of 3000K.

The Ambrosia lighting system has won the iF DESIGN AWARD, an international accolade for design excellence held every year in Hannover, Germany.
