Manufacturer: Marset

DESCRIPTION

Bohemia pendant lamp by Joan Gaspar for Marset.

The Bohemia pendant light, designed by Joan Gaspar, appears to defy reality. Whilst its appearance is reminiscent of blown glass, achieving a glass shade in that size would make that option impossible. To overcome this challenging obstacle, Gaspar chose to use polycarbonate instead. The result is a striking, organic, translucent shape with a visual lightness.

The Bohemia illuminates with a bright white downlight, adding subtle hues and shadows to enhance the overall light. This interplay between light and shadow forms a unique distinction between the two volumes.

The pendant is also available as an LED. Please contact us here for more information.
