DESCRIPTION

Djembé by Joan Gaspar for Marset.

Designed by the renowned Spanish designer Joan Gaspar, Djembé is a bell-shaped ceiling light characterised by its gentle curves. Although it was intended to be positioned in repetitive clusters, its striking design means it stands out even when placed on its own.

A rotomolding technique was used to create the different surfaces of the light. The outside has a stone-like texture, giving it a weighty appearance, whilst the interior is white and smooth, providing the perfect reflective surface for light.

The light comes in a range of sizes and muted tones that can be positioned alone or combined to make a striking statement piece.

The Djembé ceiling light is dimmable (non-DALI version).
