DESCRIPTION

Ginger A Wall Light by Joan Gaspar for Marset.

The Ginger range features an extraordinarily lightweight light disk-shaped shade which pays tribute to the drums of Ginger Baker of Cream, the 1960s rock band.

The collection uses new materials and technology applied to the lighting sector: layers of wood, paper and resin shaped under high pressure to achieve a pendant shade thickness of just 4 mm. Although wood is difficult to shape, the Ginger collection has found a way to make it work, resulting in a sleek and intimate lamp with a subtle light source that adds a soft glow to any space.

This Ginger A Wall Light features a movable swing arm in black lacquered aluminium, making it easy to adjust the shade for different lighting needs. Ideal for use on headboards, desks, reading nooks, or dining tables.

Plugin version includes a 3-positions sensor dimmer.

The Ginger collection includes a floor and table lamp and pendant light.
