DESCRIPTION

Ginger Metal Pendant light by Joan Gaspar for Marset.

The Ginger family of lamps is inspired by the drums of Ginger Baker from the 1960s rock band Cream. The lights have a disk-shaped shade and come in different sizes for suspension, tabletop, and floor models to suit various lighting needs.

Gaspar has broadened the range of the collection to feature a metal pendant that possesses the same aesthetic qualities as the wooden edition, with the added benefit that the metal lamps are lighter, more refined, and almost sculptural. The metal pendant emits a soft, warm light that reflects without creating any unpleasant glare, effectively highlighting the spaces in which it is used.
