

Vetra floor light, 2018

Designer: Joan Gaspar

Manufacturer: Marset

£1,188

DESCRIPTION

Vetra floor lamp by Joan Gaspar for Marset.

Vetra delivers the traditional glass blown pendant design with a pinch of wonderful surprise. The table lamp uses a completely closed glass diffuser as reflector while creatively placing the light source outside. This excellent design choice enables the lamp to produce light without any glare. Most of the light is focused downwards while its design enables the rest of the light to permeate inside the shade subtly illuminating it.

The stem is split into two unequal sections, breaking the symmetry and adding charm to the design while elegantly providing a cable outlet.

The floor lamp is available in two different base colour finishes.

The Vetra collection also includes a pendant and table light. Please contact us here for more information.
