DESCRIPTION

EN Dining Chair by Cecilie Manz for Maruni.

The inspiration for the "EN" collection originated from the idea of crafting a wooden round table accompanied by a chair. This collection draws its name from the Danish word "EN," which signifies "one," and from the Japanese words representing concepts like "a circle," "connection," and "destiny."

The arched backrest of the chair evokes thoughts of the classic Greek Klismos chairs, while the legs feature a looped frame that imparts a feeling of seamless continuity, resulting in a harmonious blend of gentle curves and defined edges. The emphasis on a rounded and inviting form is coupled with an exceptional level of comfort.

Crafted from maple wood, the chair is available with upholstery options of either textile or leather. The gentle hue and uniform composition of the maple wood harmonizes perfectly with the muted tones of the textile or the organic richness of the selected tanned leather of the seat.

The chair is available in five distinct finishes.

The maple wood used in crafting this table is sourced from maple trees harvested in North America.

The chair consists of a blend of veneer, mesh for the seat, and rubber sponge.

The table's coating and adhesive effectively minimize VOC emissions during both the manufacturing stages and in the final products. Rigorous testing conducted in line with the ISO12460 standard has verified that these substances meet the emission requirements, ensuring that formaldehyde emissions do not surpass the 0.4 mg/l threshold.
