DESCRIPTION

Bruno armchair by Jasper Morrison for Maruni.

Bruno is a family of generous, wood-framed armchairs and two- and three-seat sofas.

“A sofa made by Maruni should obviously involve wood in the structure. I decided that, apart from the loose cushions, the frame should be completely in wood except for the mesh below the cushions where a little extra comfort is needed. The sofa gets its dynamic appearance from the side structures where the armrest forms bridges across the angled front and back legs, which are held together by the angled seat rail. The sitting comfort is a result of carefully considered seat and backrest angles and seat height. The combination of selected fabric or leather with the ash or oak wood structures gives the sofa a visual freshness.”
