DESCRIPTION

Tres Stripes rug by Nani Marquina for Nanimarquina.

Drawing inspiration from history, the Tres collection showcases traditional Indian flat-weave Dhurrie rugs that recapture the rug's fundamental qualities in both texture and purpose. In the lives of desert nomads, these rugs served as the foundation for their homes, shielding them from the ground. Beyond mere comfort, they held a significant role as everyday items, defining spatial boundaries.

With the passage of time, rugs have evolved into decorative pieces and carriers of cultural narratives. The Tres collection stands as a contemporary incarnation of tradition, exemplifying Nanimarquina's fervour for expert artistry. Its timeless essence is realized through meticulous handcrafting in India, employing an ancient and time-honoured technique – the dhurrie.
