DESCRIPTION

La Roche Wall Light by Le Corbusier for Nemo Lighting.

Named after Le Corbusier's patron and friend Raoul la Roche, the light was conceived for their collaborative projects, the 1925 Pavillon de l'Esprit Nouveau and his home Villa La Roche, built from 1923.

The wall lamp captures their purist ideals of the early 1920s, with its slender tube and aluminium holder, it's a minimal and functional lighting solution.
