DESCRIPTION

December XL lounge by Jasper Morrison + Wataru Kumano for Nikari.

"We talked about the pleasure in making things and the idea of a chair that could be bought in a box and built at home. Considering Nikari's skill in woodwork, we worked up the idea of a chair which could be made by following easy instructions. It's a basic but comfortable low chair with a slightly rural character and definite Scandinavian influence, the kind of chair you would have in a country house near the fire, though it could work in a city apartment or a hotel lobby just as well."

-Jasper Morrison + Wataru Kumano

An informal chair constructed from high-quality natural materials, the December XL lounge chair offers exceptional comfort through its low stature and the gently reclined angle of the seatback. With more generous proportions than its sister chair, the December XL Lounge is both wider and deeper, with solid wood armrests for a relaxed look and feel.
