DESCRIPTION

Paper desk 140 by Studio Job for Mooodi.

The Paper desk 140 is a classic-looking desk made of wood and cardboard finished with paper and polyurethane (PU) lacquer and comes with oak veneer top. The single cabinet is available in both left and right compositions. Its surface, made of lacquered oak veneer, brings a touch of warmth to an otherwise candid desk.

Opulent, intricate and ironic, Studio Job combines an extraordinarily high level of craftsmanship with extreme ornamentation. They reference both the traditional and the topical, the organic and the artificial. This narrative conveys a tension between the good and the bad exploring all facets of each. Their iconography is at once heraldic and cartoon-like, monumental and yet somehow primitive. Due to this combination of elements, Studio Job's style has become synonymous with the term 'neo-gothic'. This style is placed within an enigmatic, intellectual framework by the number and complexity of symbols it conveys.
