Petite applique de chevet Antony was originally designed as a bedside light to equip the dormitories at Antony Hall, Cité Internationale Universitaire de Paris. Ideally situated next to a headboard or desk, the lamp features a mussel-shaped shade that can articulate in a 270° rotation, attached to an angular, rotating arm.

The Antony wall light has a switch on top of the shade and is cabled through the bracket directly into the wall. Please enquire here for alternative switch and cabling solutions.
