DESCRIPTION

Spline Light by David Derksen for Petite Friture.

The Spline outdoor light by designer David Derksen for Petite Friture reimagines traditional string lights with a contemporary twist. An evolution of Derksens' Sine light, this versatile design features a flexible silicone tube with integrated LED strips, allowing dynamic light compositions.

The adjustable fixture permits you to customise height, wave patterns, and curvature, creating unique lighting experiences for both indoor and outdoor settings. Encased in a translucent satin-finish silicone tube, the two LED strips offer 360-degree illumination and are supported by a 4.5-meter two-tone textile strap in brown/orange or beige/blue.

Created with sustainability at the forefront, each component in the Spline light can be removed, replaced, and modified.
