DESCRIPTION

Bloom floor light by Tim Rundle for Resident.

Inspired by the delicate dynamic flow of paper lanterns, the Bloom Floor light is made from two opposing materials; a finely perforated mesh core and frosted blown glass.

It emanates a soft, captivating light, achieved through the transparency and soft texture of the inside of the shade.

The floor light, which is available in black and white, is equally striking in its off state, making it an attractive piece during day-time and night-time.
