DESCRIPTION

Eiermann 3 Dining Table, Small by Alexander Seifried for Richard Lampert.

In 2014, Alexander Seifried drew inspiration from the classic 1953 Egon Eiermann table frame to craft a flexible trestle base. Honouring Eiermann's innovative spirit, Seifried expanded upon the frame's lateral components. Cleverly integrating stretchers of varying lengths, he devised a system enabling central mounting. This brilliant modification allows the folding trestle to morph effortlessly into a compact desk, a round dining table, or an elongated conference platform. Its adaptability is boundless, encouraging ongoing reconfiguration and an array of possibilities.

Note: Levelling screws and rubber caps are included. The tabletop can be screwed to the frame using a top fixing set (not included). Additional accessories are available here.
