

Sgabillo, 1950

Designer: Max Bill

Manufacturer: Zanotta

£534

DESCRIPTION

Sgabillo by Max Bill for Zanotta.

Designed by Max Bill during the early 1950s, the multi-functional Sgabillo table expresses a purely functionalist philosophy. This minimal and elegant design can be used as a stool, side or coffee table.

It is a natural embodiment of Bauhaus principles, a simple and refined modernist design which would look at home in both Le Corbusier's La Tourette Monastery and your living room.

DIMENSIONS

40w x 27.5d x 45cmh

MATERIALS

Available in natural varnished, layered birch or in black lacquered medium density fibreboard finished in scratch-resistant embossing.
