Arne Jacobsen French Press is an elegant and timeless press coffee maker with a thermal effect. Part of the Cylinda-line series, the coffee maker is made of double-walled stainless steel and equipped with a Bakelite handle.

This press coffee maker retains heat to ensure your coffee is brewed perfectly. With a capacity of 8 cups, it's perfect for sharing with friends and family. Experience the taste of perfectly brewed coffee every time.

The concept of the Cylinda-line began in 1964 at a family dinner at Arne Jacobsen's, three years before its official launch in 1967. Arne Jacobsen's stepson, Peter Holmblad, who was also the owner of Stelton, asked Jacobsen to create a complete series for Stelton that would include everything for the home bar. Initially, Jacobsen was hesitant due to his busy schedule, but after Holmblad showed him his sketches, he began developing these ideas further.

" I knew that when Arne saw my own inadequate sketches, he would instinctively make corrections. He could not stand the sight of ugly design." - Peter Holmblad
