

Nomos Rectangular Table, 1986

Designer: Norman Foster

Manufacturer: Tecno

£4,080

DESCRIPTION

Nomos Rectangular Table by Norman Foster for Tecno.

A pioneer in industrial design with its shared structure systems, the Nomos table is an industrial design icon. Designed by the renowned architect Norman Foster, the glass surface of the table rests calmly on the metal structure comprising of a central backbone, two side support arms and four angled projecting legs.

Featuring a solid skeleton structure similar to the human vertebra and ribs, the table can be used as meeting tables or work stations.

DIMENSIONS

160w x 80d x 65/72cmh

MATERIALS

Aluminium tubular frame in chrome finish. Glass tabletop in clear tempered or white painted extra light tempered finish.

Spacers provided with the table which allows to 2 desk top heights (72 cm or 65 cm).

Please view the product specification for finish samples.

HELP / ADVICE

Call: 0207 837 1900

Email: showroom@twentytwentyone.com