

Telares rug

Manufacturer: Nanimarquina

~~Was £2,149~~ Now £1,826

DESCRIPTION

Telares rug by Nani Marquina for Nanimarquina.

The Telares rug was born out of a combination of techniques used in kilims and typical dhurries, where the pressure of the fibres create a unique range in textures. It is a process where the tension applied between weft and warp giving the rug an appearance full of variation.

The finished result of the rug initially required prototyping through trial and error to reach the desired texture. The Telares features a loose kilim of curved shapes, whereas traditional kilims are typically geometric.

Available in a range of sizes and colours.

Please note, custom sizes available on request. Contact us for details.
