DESCRIPTION

Eames EA 131 chair by Charles & Ray Eames for Vitra.

The chairs in the Aluminium Group are the most famous creations by Charles and Ray Eames. Designed in 1958, they are rated among the great achievements in the design history of the 20th century.

Vitra introduces an expansion to its chair families tailored for home office settings. Included is the Aluminium Chair EA 131, featuring adjustable tilt mechanisms and ergonomic seat angles ideal for desk-oriented tasks. These models, devoid of castors, exude a subtle yet inviting aesthetic perfect for home workspaces.

An important characteristic of the Aluminium Chair is the intelligent combination of materials. It has a clear, transparent form and its construction is clearly visible. Aluminium sections lend the chair both stability and lightness. The material is fixed into the side sections, yet fitted loosely so that it follows the line of the body and is comfortable without requiring extensive upholstery. This material is not a cover but an integral part of the design.

Herman Miller has the sole license for the Charles and Ray Eames collection in the U.S. and Far East. Therefore the export of these products from the UK to the U.S. is not possible.
