DESCRIPTION

w222 Focal Recessed by David Chipperfield for Wastberg.

The understated design of David Chipperfield's w222 Focal Semi-Recessed Light effortlessly adapts to various spatial settings. While simple in form, the light is still personal and enriching and offered in environmentally conscious raw tumbled aluminium or sleek black and white hues.

The optic lens is created for enhanced focal illumination through its full-spectrum COB LED, providing a clear and crisp light. Its effortless integration into any setting makes it a truly versatile choice.

The raw aluminium finish is a sustainable option due to its efficient production process without any added coatings or treatments, making it easily recyclable. Its naturally textured surface will gradually develop a distinctive patina.
